

WAGs

Fetching one grant at a time

What is a WAG?

The DE-CTR ACCEL Program's Professional Development Core (PDC) and the Nemours Children's Research Career Development and Education program (RCDE) are proud to sponsor a program that supports junior and mid-level researchers interested in pursuing National Institutes of Health K (Career Development) or R (Research) grants.

A Writing Accountability Group, or WAG, is moderated by someone who has successfully submitted a K or R grant. The group provides judgment-free accountability as submission tasks are outlined and monitored through frequent check-ins. The moderator and administrative staff will also provide grant writing educational materials, resources, and support.

WAGs are run based on the NIH grant submission cycles and typically begin about 5-6 months prior to the submission deadline.

How can I join a WAG?

The groups will be kept small, so if you are interested in joining or participating in a WAG cohort, please email mentoring@de-ctr.org as soon as possible.

For questions, concerns, or additional support, please contact mentoring@de-ctr.org.
